Sen. Stamas announces transportation budget settled; study of I-75 interchange included

LANSING – Road projects approved by the Senate today include funding for a study regarding the construction of an interchange on I-75 at M-30 in Ogemaw County, announced Sen. Tony Stamas, R-Midland.

“The city of West Branch has worked for an interchange on I-75 at M-30 for years,” Stamas said. “Hopefully, this will be the year the development process begins. Our economy may not be at its best right now, but we must keep our sights focused on the future and the safety of our residents.”

House Bill 5528, the Michigan Department of Transportation budget, was passed with funding included requiring the department to conduct a study regarding construction of the interchange.

HB 5528 now goes to the governor for approval.
